
Who invested in the Bolivian energy storage project

Does Bolivia have a lithium mine?

Bolivia has large, lithium-rich salt flats, but its state-owned mining company hasn't achieved large-scale production. A group of Chinese firms is partnering with YLB, Bolivia's state-owned lithium mining company, to build a $1 billion project to exploit Bolivia's large and mostly untapped lithium resources.

How much will Bolivia invest in lithium?

The total investment in the Bolivian lithium industry is expected to reach around $9.9 billion. This follows a deal between Bolivia's state-run lithium company, Yacimientos del Lito Bolivianos (YLB), and a Chinese consortium. CATL agreed to invest over $1 billion in the project's first stage for rights to develop the two lithium plants.

Why did CATL invest $1.4 billion in Bolivia?

Chinese battery giant CATL, a global leader in electric vehicle batteries, has confirmed a $1.4 billion investment. This investment aims to develop Bolivia's untapped lithium reserves and marks a new phase in the CATL-Bolivia partnership. The agreement focuses on Bolivia's salt flats, known for their vast lithium resources.

Will Bolivia be a key player in the lithium battery industry?

CBC will use its advanced technology and expertise to execute this project, positioning Bolivia as a key player in the global lithium battery industry chain," he said. Since 2021, Bolivia's YLB has worked on the exploration and quantification of lithium, reaching a record 23 million metric tons.
