What is an RV circuit breaker?

RV circuit breakers help keep your electrical system safe and operational. When too much electricity flows through your RV's electrical system, it is the job of the circuit breaker to stop the flow of that electricity. This may seem frustrating when it happens, but it saves you from melted wires, fire damage, and more.

What is the cost to buy a new RV circuit breaker?

A new RV circuit breaker costs around $10-$15 depending on its type and current rating. Modern RVs come equipped with outlets to provide power outside the vehicle to run any appliance. However, it can trip if an appliance draws more power than the breaker's ratings.

Why do RV circuit breakers trip?

Circuit breakers prevent your RV's electrical system from becoming overloaded and therefore, causing fire and electric shock. In other words, they act as a failsafe: they interrupt the power in case of an electrical surge. This is the main reason why they trip.

Where are RV circuit breaker boxes located?

As noted above, most RV circuit breakers are located near the floor, under the fridge, under a cabinet, or even inside an interior storage compartment. Ultimately, you are looking for a small plastic or metal panel door. Behind this door, you'll find a series of switches that will look very similar to your circuit breaker box at home.
